Please call the City of Stow Parks and Recreation Department at (330) 689-5100.

Winter Tree Identification for Families

Mon., January 16, 2 - 3 PM

Leona Farris Lodge at Silver Springs Park,
5027 Stow Road

Free program for families

Come explore how to identify trees in the wintertime. School age children and their families will explore conifers and deciduous trees and learn about identifying trees by bark, needles, shape, and twig. We'll explore trees outside to test our skills! To register for this free program, visit Stow.Ohio.RecDesk.com, click on programs and search for "Winter Tree."

Learn OWL About It!

Sat., February 25, 10:30 - 11:15 AM

Leona Farris Lodge at Silver Springs Park,
5027 Stow Road

Free program for kids ages 9 - 12

Owls are fascinating! Kids ages 9 - 12 can come and learn about this amazing animal with hands-on games and activities including an owl pellet dissection. This program is the perfect way to get ready for the Owl Prowl in April. To register for this free program, visit Stow.Ohio.RecDesk.com, click on programs and search for "Learn Owl."

St. Patty's Day Trivia

Fri., March 10, 7 - 9 PM

Leona Farris Lodge at Silver Springs Park,
5027 Stow Road

Free program for adults ages 21 and up

Test your luck of the Irish by joining us for trivia on Friday, March 10. Adults 21 and over, sign up with friends on a team of 6 players, or be randomly assigned to a team. Bring a six pack of your favorite beverage to swap with other attendees (not required to attend). To register for this program, visit Stow.Ohio.RecDesk.com, click on programs, and search for "Trivia."

Owl Prowl

Thurs., April 13, 7 - 8:30 PM

Heritage Barn at Silver Springs Park
5238 Young Road

Free program for adults and families

Join Naturalist Judy Semroc for an entrancing talk focused on owl species present in our area. You'll also get tips for spotting owls during the day and learn about where they like to roost. After the indoor program, Judy will lead us on a hike to listen and look for this elusive nighttime avian predator. While two main species of owls can sometimes be heard or seen, there is no guarantee that we will see or hear them. Please know that maintaining quiet during our walk to the woods is especially important in trying to view these amazing birds. To register for this free program, visit Stow.Ohio.RecDesk.com, click on programs and search for "Owl Prowl."

Earth Fest: Celebrate the Earth!

Sat., April 22, 10 AM - 12 PM

Adell Durbin Park, 3300 Darrow Road

Save the date for an Earth Day celebration at Adell Durbin Park with activities and educational opportunities for children and adults, giveaways, nature hikes and more! Come help us celebrate the earth!
